

Organisational Structure

Samadhaan has an efficient organizational structure with appropriate people in charge of the functions to implement the tasks through utilizing the best expertise for optimization of output and quality. To manage the affairs of the firm, A Project Management Committee has been constituted comprising the members with excellent educational and training management skills. The Committee would also monitor and coordinate the project activities undertaken by Samadhaan.

All activities at field level including the monitoring of training are conducted by senior managers. The project staff is supported by a competent field staff which consists of Supervisors, Trainers and Mobilisers.
